Arizona is one of the most spectacular and beautiful regions on earth. There is no other place with its mix of landscapes, animal and plant life, and unique geological structures. The Indians of Arizona [28 percent of the state is Indian Country!], are also among the state's living treasures. The most spectacular of Arizona's geological features is, of course, the great Grand Canyon, considered by many to be the most awesome landscape sight on earth. Its only competition is on Mars! As the title indicates, this book answers virtually every question anyone might have about the Grand Canyon-literally from "A" to "Z"-including many things regular guide books don't talk about...all in one handy handbook. It's like having a portable Grand Canyon Information Center in your pocket!.

About the AuthorA longtime resident of Paradise Valley in Arizona, USA, author Boy Lafayette De Mente is known for his 70-plus books on the state, on the cultures of the Hopi and Navajo Indians of Arizona, as well as on the business practices and cultures of Mexico, China, Japan and Korea. He has been involved with Japan, China, Korea and Mexico since the late 1940s as a member of a U.S. intelligence agency, student, journalist, and editor working out of Tokyo, Seoul, Hong Kong, Singapore and Mexico City. He is a graduate of Jochi University in Tokyo, and The American Institute for Foreign Trade (in 1953), now Thunderbird School of Global Management, in Glendale, Arizona, USA. De Mente wrote the first ever books on the Japanese way of doing business (Japanese Etiquette and Ethics in Business in 1959 and How to Do Business in Japan in 1962), and was the first to introduce the now commonly used Japanese terms wa, nemawashi, kaizen, tatemae-honne, shibui, sabi and wabi to the outside business world! His books on Asia run the gamut from language learning to the night-time "pink" trades in Japan, the role of bars, cabarets and geisha houses in business, the sensual nature of Oriental cultures, male-female relations, and understanding and coping with the Chinese, Japanese, Korean and Mexican mindset in business and social situations.
