Knopf Guides : Knopf MapGuide: San Francisco (Knopf Citymap Guides) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Knopf MapGuide: San Francisco (Knopf Citymap Guides):

Just whip this little guy out while your walking and it gives you just enough info to figure out where all the cool neighborhoods you want to visit are located as well as food, sights, museums, bars, etc and gives you some recommendations to start off at. A little something for everyone in the recommendations too. All include a public transportation map. You will never be lost. Most travel guides are information-overload. Who wants to read a 100 page dissertation on a place, you just want to go and have a good time and Mapguides let you do that. I love these, if they make a Mapguide for a city I'm visiting, I buy it. 0 of 0 people

We thought we would need something like this to help us get around, but once we got to San Francisco, we discovered that we really didn't need it because it's very easy to get around the city using public transportation. We never used a taxi. We used BART, trolleys, and streetcars.... and also bought a new day pass for the open top buses. You can enjoy San Francisco without a map. But if you want a map of all of the locations, places and other things... then this is a great deal. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Favorite By wendyo96Knopf does a great job of providing a quick reference book with something that's easy to store in a purse or bag and needed as a quick reference when touring towns. The maps provide enough information for me to get around and get my bearings if I'm at an unfamiliar area or if I'm just looking for a popular place to see. I have this one for San Francisco, one for Paris and one for Los Angeles (why not).
