By Brian Grzymkowski Had this map on hand for a backpacking trip around Pharaoh Lake and Pharaoh Mountain last weekend. On-line forums, search engines, and web maps are great, but there is no substitute for a detailed and well developed trail map! It helped considerably pinning down both parking options and trail heads. It was also great for route planning and shelter options if we needed it. We experienced high winds and heavy rain during our trip, so I can confirm that the map is indeed waterproof and tear resistant! The map includes everything from lean tos to boat slips and everything in-between. And on a simple level, these maps serve as a good reminder of just how many trail options there are in the area. Hope to hit up Tongue Mountain and some of the other trails around the Pharaoh Lake Wilderness we missed in the near future. Trails do inevitably change a bit with time, but you can toss this in your glove box or pack and rest assured that you'll get a few good years out of it! For the price, it's definitely worth it. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Off trail necessity By Gus P National geographic produces some of the greatest guides and maps I have ever read. These maps illustrate trails and the topography is easy to read. This is great for off trail hiking or just in case you're lost in the ADKS. I would recommend for any outdoorsmen, hiker or camper. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Great Map By Janice E. Vadnais The Map is very informative and Very Clear to read, I have two maps and going to order more. One very important fact is it's great instead of paper. Paper gets wet out bush whacking as in earlier years.
